WHO LET THE WOODPECKERS ONTO THE ARK?

You have seen that cartoon of the woodpecker pecking away at Noah's ark. There are countless holes in the ship's hull. The woodpecker is busy on another one. Noah is trying desperately to catch him in a net. The other animals are watching and wearing expressions of despair.

The meaning is obvious. One of the passengers is unwittingly taking the ship and all occupants down. And he doesn't even realize it.

Who are the woodpeckers on the ship? The dividers. The discouragers. The "disappearers". The deserters. The "indifferenters".

Thank God for the spiritually mature men, women and youth of God. Blessed are the absolutely dependable saints. The description of their lives is faithful. Reliable. Dependable. "Semper Fidelis." "Forever Faithful!"

You realize, of course, that God's sun is in earnest. It is always in its path and it never lingers. The stars never falter in their races and never swerve from their courses. The sea is constant in its ebb and flow, exactly on time in its movements.

Why are they so reliable? Because their Maker is Faithful. "Know therefore that the Lord your God is God; He is the faithful God,..." (Deut 7:9) "And God is faithful..." (I Cor. 10:13) "The One Who calls you is faithful..." (I Thess 5:24) No doubt about it!

He demands faithfulness from us. Faithfulness in small duties and in large. Faithfulness in secrecy and in publicity. Faithfulness in the short haul and in the long pull.

You have known many saints who were "faithful even to the point of death" and have received the crown of life. (Rev 2:10)

Out with Woody!

Brother Dwight
